Chap 1: Programming Exercise

This program uses Python.

```
START
```

Intialize variable with 'input()' function with instructions to enter a numeriuc value of one edge of a cube

Convert user variable from str to int

Use user input variable to calculate the surface area of one side a cube, the surface area of the whole cube, and the cube's volume

Use 'print()' function to display result in terminal

```
END
```